

Andrew Harding SC, David Healey and Denes Blazer succeed in groundbreaking matter

Andrew Harding SC, David Healey and Denes Blazer have (successfully) conducted the first contested liability hearing pursuant to the new Design and Distribution Obligations regime (including Target Market Determinations) in Part 7.8A of the Corporations Act.

The decision provides critical guidance on the proper construction of the obligation on 'distributors' to take 'reasonable steps' under that regime.

The decision can be found here.
